

[psalm]

unseen ascend, without waking still, this last dark this secret ladder, by which is meant this lonesome climb from sleep, through dream by waking to song unsinging trumpets unspooled, to last a saintly rope memory of coils become, at rest, my progress now