

[psalm]

what we ask, sweet angel, what seek and to know some new machine balmed smooth, fueled of hope and ever to unbrine this blood, ours and always, pulse give clot these tears, daily find our fear too, what heart we pound from habit, wager memories we dare to hold