

nor did I look at anything with no other light or guide than the one that burned in my heart.

St. John of the Cross